New Mortgages...

For most people, purchasing a home is the largest financial endeavor that they undertake, yet... many individuals enter this critical process with mortgage institutions with little knowledge or understanding of what exactly is being offered and the impact of each option on their finances. This is even more of a problem for people who may not be familiar with the ### Refinancing...

A Mortgage is a long-term financial commitment, as we all know the financial markets are constantly changing.

In Israel, almost all mortgage tracks that are offered are linked to either an index, a foreign currency, a variable interest rate or a combination of these as well as other possible variables. Each one of these variables
